Sustainable Aviation: A Cross-Sector Perspective

Tuesday 26 November 2019

08:30-13:30

The purpose of this event is to bring together the key stakeholders from across the aviation industry, alongside the major departments responsible for the sustainability agenda to find out how we can find a cross-sector approach to make air travel more sustainable and environmentally friendly.

It will be full morning session starting with a cross-departmental panel looking at how they are working together to achieve a more environmentally sustainable approach to aviation. A session from cross-industry representatives focusing on what they doing to increase efficiencies and reduce carbon emissions will follow the government panel.
